CargoWise edi Wins APICTA Award ediEnterprise notches 6th Award in three years.

Sydney, Australia, December 10, 2007 — CargoWise™ edi, a leading provider of integrated international supply chain logistics management systems, competing against the individual winners from 16 major economies, was recently recognized as the winner in the General Applications category at the 7th annual Asia Pacific Information Communications and Telecommunications Alliance (APICTA) Awards on November 29, 2007. The award recognizes outstanding innovations within the Asia Pacific ICT industry.

“Among some of the world’s toughest competition, CargoWise edi won the APICTA award for General Applications,” said Sheryle Moon, CEO of the Australian Information Industry Association (AIIA). “The Company shines as a true innovator in a tough global marketplace. Awards such as this APICTA recognition and the two iAwards [<http://www.iawards.com.au>] received from AIIA in May of this year show CargoWise edi to be an important breed as a successful, global, award-winning ICT company.”

“We are very pleased to have received this important award from APICTA,” said Richard White, CEO of CargoWise edi. “This recognition from a major industry organization provides a positive recognition of why our customers love ediEnterprise and why CargoWise edi has established a global presence as a major provider of integrated international supply chain logistics management systems. As a company we are invigorated and motivated by this award and are redoubling our efforts to grow and develop our product and business for ourselves and our customers”.
