

CargoWise edi Expands into New, Larger Chicago Office

Chicago, IL USA April 1, 2009 — CargoWise® edi, a leading provider of integrated international supply chain logistics management systems, has recently moved its U.S. regional headquarters to a new facility in the Chicago area in order to enhance its steady global growth.

CargoWise edi's new U.S. headquarters is one of three regional headquartered offices across the globe; additional headquarters are located in Sydney, Australia and Milton Keynes, UK. In addition to increased workspace for staff, the new Chicago regional headquarters will also provide an improved customer training center with increased capacity for clients who are visiting the Chicago area for training on CargoWise edi's flagship ediEnterprise software system. "The move was prompted by our need for additional office and training center space," said Lisa Tree, Marketing Manager for CargoWise edi. "The new and improved office facility and training center is a welcomed expansion that will provide enhancements to training procedures, and offer improved amenities and entertainment options in the surrounding area for our visiting customers. This expansion enables CargoWise edi to better serve its broad global customer base."
